THE KEEPSAKE.
Oh! knowest thou why, to distance driven,
When friendship weeps the parting hour,
The simplest gift that moment given,
Long, long, retains a magic pow'r.
Still, when it meets the musing view,
Can half the theft of time retrieve—
The scenes of former bliss renew,
And bid each dear idea live?
It boots not if the pencil'd rose,
Or sever'd ringlet meet the eye;
Or India's sparkling gems enclose
The talisman of sympathy.
"Keep it—yes, keep it for my sake!"
On fancy's year still steals the sound;
Ne'er time the potent charm shall break,
Nor loose the spell by nature bound!

A good deal of excitement in the public feelings has been produced here, by an account of the decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States, in the case of Sturges vs. Crowninshield, on the subject of the insolvent laws of the individual states. In that case, it seems, the defence rested on the ground of a discharge under the insolvent act of this state of 1811.—From the statements which we have seen, we are not able to ascertain precisely the point settled by this decision.

We understand that the contract on which this action was founded, was entered into before the law of 1811 was passed. From that circumstance it would seem, that the case required only the determination of the question. Whether the law of 1811, having been formed subsequently to the contract, and in its operation having discharged the debtor absolutely from the debt was a law impairing the obligation of contracts? If this is the extent of the principle settled by the Court, in this case, a different and much more interesting one remains for adjudication, viz.—Whether a state insolvent law with a similar provision, would be considered as impairing the obligation of the contract made subsequent to the date of the law? If this point has been also settled by the Court, and in the affirmative, it will be one of the most important decisions that has ever occurred, and will place a very numerous class of people in a very perplexing situation: and, as far as we can see, must give rise to an unheard of series of litigation. Insolvent acts have existed, in one form and another, in different parts of the country, for a long period, and proceedings have taken place under them in cases innumerable. Transfers of property which have been made, and they have been made to a vast extent, may, for aught we can discern, be at least put in hazard. Releases and discharges executed by trustees, &c. under the sanction of these laws, may be in a predicament somewhat of a similar nature. In short, it is difficult to discover the end of such a state of things as such a decision may produce, both as it regards person and property.

We, however, are not disposed to speculate further on the subject, until the opinion of the Court, shall be published, which we cannot but hope will take place without delay, as the anxiety to see it, and to learn its nature and extent, is very deep, and very universal. And it is peculiarly interesting to the people of this state, at the present moment, by reason of the opinion that has been expressed, relative to its present insolvent system, by the highest judicial officers of the government, and as the subject of a new one is now before the Legislature. If all the former discharges under the state insolvent acts, so far as they go beyond the protection of the body of the insolvent from imprisonment, are void, and the Congress shall persist in declining to pass a national bankrupt act, the condition of our countrymen, and especially of the mercantile portion of it, is truly deplorable.

CASE OF STURGES VS. CROWNINSHIELD.
The brief statement which we gave of the late decision of the Supreme Court in this case, we find causes a very considerable sensation in the city, and we do not wonder at it. We however, after conversing with some gentlemen who heard the decision of the court read by the chief justice, advise to the suspension of all opinions until the decision itself reaches town;—which in all probability, will be in the course of to-morrow, or the next day, at farthest as a person is employed at Washington to transcribe it, and send it immediately on to his friend in this city; a copy of which we are promised. Until it arrives, we will not indulge in partial statements, or surmises. [N. York Evening Post.

ALEXANDRIA:
TUESDAY, MARCH 2, 1819.

JONAH THOMPSON, esq. was yesterday elected President of the Bank of Alexandria, vice William Herbert, deceased.

THE LAUNCH.
We understand that the 74 gun ship at Washington was launched into her destined element yesterday about half past eleven o'clock in handsome style, no accident having occurred.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT AT WASHINGTON
Saturday, February 27.
Nothing passed worthy of notice in the house of representatives, this day, with the exception of a message from the president, transmitting the Spanish treaty of amity and cession of the Floridas, and recommending that as the treaty would in all probability be ratified by the King of Spain during the recess, congress should make the proper legislative proceedings to meet the occasion, before they adjourned. The message was accordingly referred to the committee on foreign affairs, who, before the house rose, reported a bill authorizing the president to take possession of the Floridas, and to establish a temporary government therein, which bill was read twice and referred to a committee of the whole on the state of the union.

Washington March 1
It is announced in the account of Saturday's proceedings in the house of representatives, that the president has officially communicated to congress the Treaty with Spain, which has been solemnly ratified on our part, and will no doubt be promptly ratified by the government of Spain. With a view to this event, a bill has been introduced, and will probably become a law, for authorizing the executive, in that contingency, to receive the territory from the hands of the Spanish authorities, and establish a provisional government therein.

The Treaty was read in the House of Representatives with open doors, but is not to be published in extenso, the usage in such cases requiring it should not be promulgated until formally ratified—we have little doubt, however, that a copy of it will shortly find its way to the Press. Meanwhile, it is sufficient to state, that the summary we gave of its contents appears to have been pretty correct, with the following addition.

All grants made by Spain, in the ceded territory, anterior to the 1st day of January, 1818, are to be respected.
The Islands adjacent to Florida are ceded, with the territory.
It is stipulated that the territory shall, having the necessary requisites, be admitted into the Union on an equal footing with the original states. [National Intelligencer.

MR. CHEVES.
Lexington, (Kentucky) Feb. 5.
William Jones, Esq. has resigned the office of president of the United States Bank. Mr. Cheves, of South Carolina, is mentioned as his probable successor. If this gentleman should receive the appointment, we have no doubt that he will discharge its duties with wisdom and integrity. His mind is of the first order; his character is spotless. As member of congress, as chairman of the committee of ways and means, he distinguished himself by his information on finance and general policy; by his acuteness, talents and eloquence in debate. He presided with ability and dignity over the house of representatives of the U. States; and he now fills a high judicial office in South Carolina. Nor can any objection be made, even by federalism, to the political principles of Mr. Cheves; for though he has always been a democratic republican, his moderation has been uniform and conspicuous. [Gazette.

February 6.
The lieutenant governor, we regret to learn, has signed the act for expelling, by force, the branches of the United States' bank from this state. We hope it will not be productive of all the evil consequences we fear, but of this we are confident, that it is, in effect, (however well it may have been intended,) an act in direct opposition to the authority of the United States' government. The mismanagement of the bank does not, in our estimation, furnish the slightest excuse for such a law. The course now pursuing by congress, is the only correct and legitimate remedy for any abuses of that institution; and we are happy in believing, that the remedy is an ample one. This state is fully and ably represented in congress: if any evil results to us therefore from the establishment of branches among us, or from the manner in which they are conducted, let our application for redress be made to the proper tribunal, but let not the legislature of Kentucky interfere with the national government, nor by a rash, precipitate act, hazard the harmony and integrity of the union.

STEAM BOAT FRANKLIN SUNK.
By last evening's mail, we learn that the Steam Boat Franklin, owned by capt. Jacob Reid, was sunk on the 24th ult. in ascending the Mississippi, just below St. Genevieve, with a full cargo of groceries, from New Orleans for St. Louis. The cargo is said to be very valuable.

Charleston, Feb. 22.
LATEST FROM HAVANA.
By the brig Alexander, capt. Brooks, we have received from our valuable correspondent a file of Havana papers to the 12th inst. inclusive, and the following intelligence from his letter dated the 12th.

"Havana, Feb. 12, 1819.
"Accompanying this you have our latest papers—My last was per the Legal Tender—since which, nothing has occurred of any moment. Our market continues without variation. Coffee and Muscovado sugar maintain their prices stoutly, and we do not imagine that any decline will take place—24 dols. is asked to day for coffee, and 84 and 9 dols. for Muscovados of prime qualities. Molasses will decline—10 ris is the current price.
Flour continues languid—some small parcels of Philadelphia have gone off at 12 1/2 dols. Rice is in demand at 9 1/2 and 10 dols. but will decline after the convoy sails in all this month.

"The brig Mentor (of Rhode Island,) and schr. Post Chaise, sails this morning for New York. I refer you to the "Diario" for further Marine Intelligence.
"The Governor General of Marines, and other distinguished personages, took an excursion in the steam boat yesterday, and were delighted: the novelty of this scene, attracted the curiosity of thousands, who were collected on every eminence and point that could afford a view. The day was calm and without a sail flowing—the "Mississippi" glided through the waters with great speed—a full Band of Music on board playing during the while."

"The brig Orozinda, Chase, sails to-morrow for Savannah."

HIGHWAY ROBBERS.
His Honor Judge Colcock having issued a Bench Warrant for the purpose, Colonel Cleary, Deputy to his father the High Sheriff, and a number of other gentlemen, went on Saturday last for the purpose of arresting and bringing to justice, a number of lawless characters who have for some days past been preying upon the innocent inhabitants in the vicinity of the Five Mile House, and upon the unwary traveller. How long they have infested the road, we have not learned, but latterly their depredations were committed with as much apparent fearlessness as though they were commissioned for the purpose. The following persons, most of whom are already identified, have been arrested and committed to goal.—John Fisher, Lovina Fisher, his wife, Wm. Heyward, James McElwray, Jane Howard, and Seth Young. Much credit is due to Colonel Cleary and the gentlemen who assisted in their arrest.

[Ibid.
ANOTHER ROBBER CAUGHT.
James Sterritt, belonging to the gang of robbers, who were taken upon Saturday, was this morning apprehended and taken before J. H. Mitchell, Esq. who committed him to jail, for robbing and beating Mr. J. Brown, on the 1st inst. at the six mile house. Sterritt robbed Mr. B. of 140 dollars.

Extract of a letter to the Editor of the Southern Patriot, dated Jaquemet, (Hayti) Jan. 17, 1819.
"I have nothing worth transmitting to you in the news-line except the growing piracy which is carried on from the leeward coast of this Island, say from Arquin Bay to the West End, and from thence through the Passage and the Keys, as well as round Cuba: this piracy has been going on, for these five years, and is now grown to an alarming extent, so much so, that it is dangerous for any unarmed vessel to pass. A schooner from Norfolk has been taken by them, and it is supposed all murdered on board. A government brig at Aux Cayes went in pursuit and fell in with her, and found after using every exertion to avoid them, she was run ashore and the Pirates escaped. Another schooner from Baltimore has been robbed to a considerable amount and I understand has put into Port-au-Prince—the schooner Perry, of Baltimore, taken, and all hands murdered; Danish vessels and others plundered, &c.—all this in a short time. Many of these pirates have been arrested at different times, by the government; the plunder taken from them, and they imprisoned for two or three weeks, and then set at liberty, with their appetites whetted, by disappointment, for new plunder. The government, in no one instance, have punished one of these plunderers—they have laws but dare not enforce them!! It appears to me that any man of common sense would say, that it would be to the credit of the American Government, if it was to send this way some trifling force; only four or five Cape Cod fishing smacks, with ten men each and one swivel, it would be enough to keep the freedom of those seas and protect lawful commerce."

Gunston for Sale.
THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creeks, and contains nearly 9,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shade and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaster acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain; being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole; it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary out-house, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burned on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvas backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.
September 4 GEORGE MASON

Valuable Property for Sale.
THE subscriber is desirous of selling a handsomely situated farm, on Hunting creek, in Fairfax county, Virginia, adjoining the Mount Vernon estate and the lands of general Thomson Mason, four miles from Alexandria, containing about 240 acres, 80 of which are in wood—40 to 50 in mowing meadow of clover and timothy—a part of the residue recently seeded with wheat and rye, and clover, last spring—the whole enclosed with a new post and rail fence.—The improvements are, a comfortable and convenient frame dwelling house and kitchen, smoke houses, poultry house, granary and stables.—There is on this place a rich and productive garden, and a large body of marsh meadow, from which may be saved annually 100 tons of hay, nearly as nutritious as the best timothy or clover.—With the farm would be sold a number of very valuable horses, cow and sheep; waggon, carts, and a variety of farming utensils and household and kitchen furniture; corn, oats and rye, and 40 tons hay. Also, adjoining the one above described, a farm containing 160 acres, recently enclosed, on which is a brick house, which a trifling expense would render comfortable. The soil is excellent, and a considerable part might be easily converted into meadow.—it would be sold with the other or separately. Also, a number of valuable servants, male and female. To prevent unnecessary application, he would observe that they will only be sold to persons residing in the District or its vicinity, and not to be carried from it. The subscriber will also sell the greater part of his household furniture, which is new and handsome. For terms of all or any part of the above property, apply to NOBLET HERBERT, Esq.

PROPOSALS.
BY JOSEPH M. SANDERSON, for publishing by subscription, A BIOGRAPHY OF THE SIGNERS TO THE Declaration of Independence, ACCOMPANIED WITH PLATES: To which will be annexed a history of the proceedings of congress during the passage of the law, and the Declaration itself, with fac-simile engravings of the signatures.

By PAUL ALLEN, Esq.
TO THE PUBLIC.

IT seems a little surprising that amongst so many subjects as have been presented for American Biography, the lives of those who have affixed their signatures to the Declaration of Independence have been overlooked or disregarded. The eyes of thousands have dwelt with rapture upon the document that announced to the world that these United Colonies were, and of right ought to be, free, sovereign, and independent states; while we are better acquainted with the handwriting than with the characters of many of those illustrious men who have added their signatures to that instrument. The founders of the only remaining republic on the globe, have, with a few splendid exceptions, gone to their graves, and it behoves a generous posterity, sensible of their obligations, to preserve their fame. The longer we neglect the payment of so sacred a debt, the more difficult does the payment become.—Traits of individual character are fugitive and evanescent; and if they are not snatched by the hand of the Biographic Muse, at an early season, from the cold grasp of death, will soon partake of the oblivion of the body.—It is not the object of the present attempt, to deal in that profusion of indiscriminate and unmeaning panegyric, so often and so rashly dignified with the name of Biography: we wish to represent the characters as they were; they stand in need of no panegyric; and we earnestly solicit from the surviving relations and friends of those revolutionary patriots all the information that will tend to a development of character. Man is the creature of circumstance, and we wish to show the progress of those patriots from their first resistance of colonial aggression, until they stood forth the noble and undaunted champions of their country's independence. All this can only be done by a familiar acquaintance with the lives of these men, and whoever of the surviving friends or relatives will furnish facts and circumstances in their possession to unfold and illustrate their characters, shall be entitled to a copy of the work as a recompense. It is contemplated, wherever it is practicable, further to embellish the mediated work with correct likenesses of the subjects of our biography, executed by the most eminent artists in the country. For this purpose we again solicit the assistance of their surviving relatives and friends. If they will transmit to the publisher any engraving or portrait from which a copy may be taken, the original shall be faithfully returned, and shall likewise be remunerated with a copy of the work. In the first number it is proposed to give an account of the Declaration of Independence, from the first motion that was made on the floor of congress until its final passage into a law, a period embracing much curious and secret history; finally, we promise to add to our last number, the Declaration of Independence itself, with fac-simile engravings of the signatures. We have now compendiously stated the objects of our present undertaking, and we hope that it will be unnecessary to mention that no exertions on our part shall be spared.

The public are now in possession of our project, which does indeed seem to be demanded, by the avidity so recently displayed for the possession of the Declaration of Independence, since it is of very little import to become acquainted with a man's hand writing without a previous knowledge of the man. The secret history of our Declaration of Independence, the lives of those who have affixed their signatures to that instrument, accompanied by their likenesses, and finally the Declaration itself, with fac-similes of the signatures, will bring into compact view the prominent facts of that interesting crisis.

CONDITIONS.
I. The work will be published in numbers, or half volumes, of 150 pages octavo, and will be contained in ten numbers.
II. It will be printed on fine paper made expressly for the purpose, and delivered to subscribers at two dollars and fifty cents per half volume or number, payable on delivery.

Subscriptions will be received at the office of the Alexandria Gazette.
